A long time ago (1950), a woman trapped an evil monster in an abandoned school basement.

Woman: "Please, monster, can you open the box and go in?"

Monster: "No, I can't".

The woman points a gun to the monster.

The monster: "Ok!" and he gets in.

Then the woman met his daughter

Woman "Hello, daughter!"

Daughter: "Hello, mum! What's in there?"

Woman: "Oh, don't worry. It's only a monster, don't let anyone in. If the monster comes out, it kills everyone".

Daughter: "Ok, it will be done. I promise".

Sixty years later (2010), the woman's daughter built a new school on top of the haunted basement.

Dal vivo: scena – banchi, sedie e lavagna

"This is my new school, and these are my teachers".

Each teacher presents to the audience.

"Hi, my name is Deborah. I'm your sports teacher".

"Hi, my name is Matthew. I'm your fishing teacher".

"Hi, my name is U'Padrino. I'm your madness teacher".

U'Padrino: "What is there behind that door?"

Everybody stops talking. The woman: "No, no, it's nothing, it is dark and cold, don't ever go there".

Then one day, a new teacher decided to clean the basement.

He wanted to use it for teaching students.

People saw him going into the basement with a mop and he never came back out. (laughter of the monster)

The monster ate him.

Ester and Serena present themselves to the audience.

"Hi, my name is Ester. I'm twelve years old. I'm good at science. I am not afraid of anything"

"Hi, my name is Serena. I'm very beautiful and clever".

One sunny afternoon, Ester and Serena stole the basement keys and decided to explore the mysterious basement.

Teacher is walking in the corridor. Ester asks her:

"Miss, can you tell me your age? How old are you? Where did you buy that beautiful dress? Where is the toilet? How many people are in your family? Have you got a husband?..."

While the teacher tries to answer, Serena steals the basement keys from the teacher's bag.

They decided to go back to the school at midnight.

They opened the creaky, old door and looked around the dark, shadowy basement.

There was an old piano and a lot of boxes.

Suddenly, the door slammed shut and the piano started to play a scary tune.

Pianola, mani finte, musica di sottofondo, parete che separa le scene

They thought it was the kind of piano that plays itself, but then they noticed a pair of green and bloody hands running swiftly over the keys all by themselves.

Suddenly, Serena screamed loudly, "AHHHHHHH!"

Ester: "Please, Serena, don't be so stupid, stop playing the piano".

Serena: "You stop playing"

Ester: "Serena, it's a very stupid joke. Stop with it. Serena!? Serena!?"

Serena disappeared as fast as a mouse running from a cat.

Ester thought Serena was scaring her so she went home.

The next day, Serena didn't come to school, so Ester decided to look for her

The teacher was speaking: "Black holes are created by the collapse of a star. Can you imagine, Ester? Ester? ESTERRRRR!!!! What are you thinking of?"

Ester: "I am worried for Serena. Why isn't he here? I want to go and find her".

Teacher: "No, you're crazy. You can't."

Ester: "Can I go to the toilet?"

Teacher: "Yes, you can".

Ester went to the toilet and filled her water guns.

She went back to the basement all by himself.

She threw open the door and shouted, "Serena, where are you?"

She jumped down the stairs.

As she walked further into the dark basement, she heard the piano playing in the gloomy dark.

She felt a cold breeze on his body. Suddenly, she felt hundreds of hands pulling her into a big, old box.

She heard a girl sobbing quietly in the box. "Who's there?" the girl asked quietly.

"It's Ester. Who are you?"

The girl shouted, "It's Serena!"

Ester was glad that Serena was alive.

Suddenly, green slime started dripping into the box.

Serena's shoes accidentally touched the slime and her shoes melted right away.

Just as the slime was eating their socks, a teacher opened the box and saved them.

Just as the slime was going to eat them, some water from Ester's gun dripped on the slime and the slime disappeared.

They sprayed the disgusting green slime with water.

Suddenly a slime monster appeared.

The narrators appear on the stage and introduce the characters.

(I narratori litigano tra di loro per presentare la scena:

I am the narrator. No, I am the narrator.

Narrator: "On the left corner, ten feet tall, stinking like rotten cheese, as fat as an elephant and slow like a turtle, its mouth is open wide enough to eat both of the girls, ladies and gentlemen, THE MONSTER!!"

"On the right corner, with their water guns, scared and desperate, ESTER AND SERENA!"

They sprayed the monster again but they ran out of water.

They jumped out of the box and ran up the stairs.

The slimy green monster chased them to the soccer field.

When the monster almost had them, it started to rain.

The monster disappeared with one last howl.

Serena and Ester had saved the school and the world.
